

Justice Health in Australia:

Beyond the Convict Era Meeting Challenges for the 21st Century

6-7 April 2009

Call for Abstracts

All abstracts for the concurrent sessions are to be submitted electronically using the online facility on the Justice Health Conference page on the PHAA website: <http://www.phaa.net.au> Select the Abstract Submission tab and follow the prompts.

Abstract Requirements

- All intended presentations require the submission of an abstract. All abstracts will be subject to peer review
- If there is more than one presenter, all correspondence will be sent to the person whose name and address is entered with the abstract
- Guidelines for preparation of posters will be provided once abstracts have been accepted
- All presenters must register and pay the conference registration fee

ABSTRACTS DEADLINE 16 January 2009

Presenters will be notified of acceptance by early February 2009.

Presentations

We wish to encourage productive discussion, interaction and networking. This can be achieved through formal oral presentations followed by short discussions. Workshops, round table discussions and debates will provide greater levels of interaction between audience and presenters. The program will promote informal contact between poster presenters and the audience. In time-slots designated in the program, poster presenters will be invited to be available for consultation

How concurrent sessions will work

- the duration of the sessions will be 90 minutes
- presenters will have a total of either 15 minutes, (10 minutes to present & 5 minutes discussion) or 10 minutes, (7 minutes to present & 3 minutes discussion)
- the session will have a nominated chair
- all presentation rooms will be equipped for electronic presentations

Poster sessions

- designated periods will be allocated in the program when presenters will attend their posters

Conference Streams

Those submitting abstracts for presentations in the concurrent sessions should be guided by the broad conference stream titles outlined on the previous page

Return to previous page to submit your abstract, click on
'Online Registration & Submission of Abstracts'